DAVIS THEATRE TODAY

Douglas Fairbanks in His Latest Picture, A Modern Musketeer, and Dorothy Dalton in Love Letters, Two Big Features—Three Keith Vaudeville Acts Tomorrow and Wm. S. Hart in The Aryan—The Best Show in Town.

In filming the exterior scenes for A Modern Musketeer, the 6-part Art-craft picture shown at the Davis theatre today, Douglas Fairbanks and his company spent two weeks in the Grand Canyon in Arizona, and then went to the Canyon du Chelly, ninety miles by pack mule from Gallup, N. M. Here the Fairbanks organization lived in tents, their meals were prepared by an old cowboy cook who served the largest beans in captivity twice a day. The cook improvised palatable names for his concoctions, and the menu included such tempting morsels as wild cat stew, mountain lion roast and untamed mule steak.

Fairbanks did not overlook any of the high cliffs in staging his thrillers, and his admirers will see him in new and sensational stunts. Marjorie Daw makes her first appearance playing opposite Fairbanks. The cast includes Frank Campeau and Tully Marshall. The other feature is Dorothy Dalton who will be seen in Love Letters, her latest production made under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince. This was written by Shannon Fife, and is a gripping story of the heart-breaking struggle of a woman to retain her husband's affection against overwhelming odds. The cast, including William Conklin and Thurston Hall, is exceptionally well chosen. The Animated Weekly completes the show. Three big acts and Wm. S. Hart in The Aryan Tomorrow.

BREED THEATRE

Usual Shows Today—Harold Lockwood in The Square Deceiver Feature—Ethel Barrymore Coming Tomorrow in An American Widow.

The usual shows will be given at the Breed theatre today—matinee at 2.30, evening at 7.30 and 9.30. The feature attraction is Harold Lockwood in The Square Deceiver, a delightful comedy drama of love and youth. Mr. Lockwood is known for the wholesomeness of his subjects and this picture, like the preceding ones, is wholesome in itself. Mr. Lockwood is supported by a capable cast. Pauline Curley appears in the leading role. She has figured prominently in a number of Triangle productions and is rapidly winning a name for herself. Other members of the cast include William Clifford, Dora Hill, Adams, Dick L'Estrange and Kathryn Hutchinson. Other pictures on today's bill include the Burton Holmes Travelogue and Victor Moore comedy. Coming tomorrow, one day only, Ethel Barrymore in An American Widow.

AUDITORIUM

Big Banner Bill Today With Wm. S. Hart in The Bad Man, The Painted Madonna, and Fighting Trail.
Today is the last chance to see the new screen star, Scott Markow, whom Mr. Fox is presenting in the film world for the first time. Her photoplay, The Painted Madonna, will close its run at the Auditorium theatre tonight.
One would hardly expect a moving picture actor to outdo in deeds of reckless prowess a young mountaineer in his native haunts. Well, that's what William Duncan, star and director, did in filming The Fighting Trail, the great new serial of adventure in the great outdoors. The seventh episode of this picture will be shown in the Auditorium theatre today.
Coming Thursday, the wonderful super-feature, A Modern Toreador, with a beauty chorus of 250 pretty diving girls.
